THE CALLING

A Visual Dimensions graphical adventure for Spectrum home computers.
Written by T. Taylor & P.J. Heary.
Be prepared to enter a mysterious world of demons and spirits. You must be wary, though, as some things are not what they appear to be.....

The Story

Coming home from York, where you have had a meal, you cross the lonely Yorkshire moor to reach Bayley, your coastal home.

As you travel, it begins to rain and soon a storm breaks out.
As if this is not bad enough, your engine mysteriously stops. As it is too far to walk in the rain, Jenny, your companion, decides to search out a house and to call the recovery service.

Two hours later, when Jenny has still not returned, you decide to take action.....

The Interpreter

"The Calling" sports a very complex parser. Normal Verb/Noun is supported, but so are Adjectives, Adverbs, Prepositions and Conjunctions! Commands can also be strung together using "and",
"then", or commas, and commands such as "get all" and "drop all"
are implemented. A typical command could be:

CAREFULLY EXAMINE RABBIT WITH THE MAGNIFYING GLASS, TALK NORTH AND GET ALL.
