THE PROGRAM

The game you are about to play is our salute to Hollywood, that dream factory where everything was possible and where Groucho worked to make the world laugh. We want to make your dreams come true, which is why we have hidden a worldfamous Hollywood star in this computer entertainment. The story so far..... Uncle Groucho is barnstorming across the U.S.A. in his own inimitable style, accompanied by his pal the notorious PiMan! They hold the secrets to the Mystery Star's identity, but first you'll have to pursue them through every town, street and building in the States. Hold on to your brains, because Groucho's America is wierd: the currency is fat cigars, and you are as likely to travel in a space shuttle as in a covered wagon. You'll meet a galaxy of Hollywood stars as well as a bizarre collection of extras. Spend a Day at the Races, get up to Monkey Business in the Casino, go to jail, sweat in the Sauna, pow-wow with Indian chiefs, but above all.....enjoy yourself!

THE PRIZE

The chosen winner who correctly identifies the mystery personality will be rewarded with a modest little prize;- a trip for two to meet the Hollywood Star in person. Flying supersonic on the fabulous Concord from London to JFK New York, jetting to your luxury hotel in Hollywood California, staying at the worldfamous Waldorf Astoria in New York, and cruising home on board the magnificent Queen Elizabeth II to Southampton, where Groucho and the PiMan will meet you. We'll even give you £500 spending money. Nice, huh? Travel dates will be in late 1984, as agreed between Automata and Cunard.
