THE GREAT MICRODEAL SELL OUT!

At the Z.X. Microfayre in June, Microdeal's exciting new range of Q.L. products received such a good reception, that a complete batch of 'LANDS OF HAVOC', one of the three programs being launched, was sold out by lunchtime.

"The Lands of Havoc" is a superb 2000 screen arcade adventure with full colour maps, the Book of Change and Sador; Microdeal's new reptilian hero. The Cornwall based software company also launched "Cuthbert in Space"; an action packed Jet-Pac style arcade game ... and "Hopper", a giant leap forward for Q.L. and guaranteed to keep users 'ribbeted' to their seats.

"Microdeal expected the new Q.L." range to get a good reception, but due to the low user base anticipated relatively low sales. However, the company, totally unprepared for the demand at the Microfayre and sales since, have been forced to step up production.

AND YES!!! ... THERE'S MORE !!! ... as if to emphasise just how successful the range is; Microdeal have announced the coming release of "CRAZY PAINTER"; an incredibly addictive and totally original arcade game which is strongly recommended!

NOW WE GO FOR I B M

JOHN SYMES, after many months of secrecy and speculation, is delighted to announce the launch of MICRODEAL'S superb new range of software for the I.B.M. and I.B.M. compatibles.

John Symes says "We hope our new range of quality games will provide the serious user and businessman alike, with hours of entertainment, relaxation and a valuable change from the demanding routines of business".

The range has been carefully put together with the preferences of the serious user in mind and includes an excellent version of the traditional board game BACKGAMMON; the very best computerised CHESS, and a further 4 titles all available now -- with more to be launched shortly.

For further details see page ...12.

INFORMATION ON NEW TITLES COMING SOON

MODULE MAN FOR THE DRAGON 32

You play the role of Module Man, personal servant to the king, and your mission is to seek out the 'magic sword' and return it to your King.

The sword is hidden somewhere among the 15 different screens which make up the dungeon along with various objects, some of which must be carried in order to open certain locked doors.

There are also a variety of nasties to hinder your progress, several secret doors and even a secret chamber.

The graphics are excellent and when used in conjunction with Microdeal's Speech/ROM Pack, the sound and actual words 'spoken' are superb, and the overall effect is perfect!! If you haven't got a speech pack don't worry, the game is still A1...Joystick control.

CRAZY PAINTER FOR THE Q.L.

Crazy Painter is an excellent quality, all original, arcade game, previously available for the Dragon on which it was a huge success.

The Q.L. version has been totally re-written to take full advantage of the Q.L.'s capabilities. Control is either joystick or keyboard and the object of the game is to paint the floor with your superbly animated paintbrush ... it sounds very easy; and indeed would be if it were not for the Dogs, Moths, Caterpillars, little boys, Balloons and a whole variety of other "Pests" all intent on messing up your handywork! There are 8 levels of difficulty and various highly challenging bonus screens. Graphics really are excellent as is the catchy rendition of "whistle while you work". Highly addictive!!!

QL FLIGHT

We have just received news of a game that is NOT A GAME but a very realistic Flight Simulator!!!

FLIGHT is a View Orientated flight simulation for the Q.L. written entirely in machine language.

'View' orientated means that the pilot may determine his or her position by actually viewing the surrounding landmarks and features as opposed to flying on instruments only.

Your aircraft is a light weight, low winged, single engined aeroplane, with a nose wheel which is both steerable and retractable.

Most instrument manouvers and procedures may be practised, as well as aerobatics, aileron roll, spins, stalls and sustained inverted flight.

Keyboard or 2 joysticks for control.

POCKET MONEY Software

Following the release of Pocket Money Software earlier this year we are delighted to announce that the excellent reviews given by the specialist computer press have led to a huge demand. Nine titles for the Dragon 32 (Bandito, Datafall Robin Hood, Teatime, Pitfiend, Bubble Buster, Slide, Toppler and Fearless Freddy) and two for the Commodore 64 (Crazy Painter and War Machine) are available at £1.99.

This was a major software launch for Dragon owners, who up until that time, didn't have access to a budget range at all, this gap in the market has been successfully filled and further information can be obtained on page 10

A FEW REVIEWS

Cuthbert Enters the Tombs of Doom CBM 64 £6.95

Microdeal, 41 Truro Rd, St Austell, Cornwall

The Cuthbert cult continues with colossal capers in the latest escapade from Microdeal. It's a five star game all the way.

The challenge consists of over 200 chambers! How do they do it? Chambers are littered with keys, locks, ghostly ghouls, beastly bats, sadistic saxophones — yes, saxophones — sworded spheres, stekebab fiends, transportation chambers and various treasures.

Then there are lamps to be filled to give temporary immunity from the nasties and extra lives to be won and lost. It is quite mind-boggling.

With the cassette comes a join the Cuthbert Club registration, a 16 page instruction booklet — sorry manuscript — autographed poster application with a meet-Cuthbert competition and a key fob. It's superb packaging to go with an excellent piece of software.

The early stages start easily, but the going soon starts to get tough as Oxygen shortages begin to penalise any delay. What's more, negotiating a room once might not be enough, you may have to go back more than once to pick up more keys. But that's enough from me, you'll discover the rest when you buy it. B.J.

Buzzard Bait Dragon £9.95

Tom Mix (Microdeal), 41 Truro Rd, St Austell, Cornwall PL25 5JE

Wow! What a game! Now I know why they decided to protect it so well. Yes, this is the game with the dangle, a black plastic box which plugs into the joystick port and which must be present every time you load the game. If not you can't get it fully loaded and have to start again and it is a particularly long loading game.

The game is great however and will provide you with many happy hours of relatively non-violent fun.

You have a winged steed to help you topple the enemy off his animal and turn him into an egg.

The game can be played by two players, although it is easy to find that you have been killed by the other player.

The graphics are the very best I have seen and for the Dragon the choice of screen colours is a worthwhile feature. The sound is also remarkable due to its restrained yet very fitting nature. A real winner which I would like to see on other machines too.

Frogger

Program: The Official Frogger
Supplier: Microdeal

YET ANOTHER Microdeal offering (I have a friend who believes that Microdeal are the only software house who produce games for the Dragon!), which is definitely the best Frogger available for the Dragon.

Move over pole position — here's speed racer

...Although I enjoy well-written arcade games and simulations, it's not often that I find one that is so addictive as Speed Racer. When you've mastered the easy circuit you can go on to one with more bends. If you can last ten miles, a figure appears with a chequered flag and your time is recorded under the circuit map. One of the best games I've seen for ages.

John Scriven

The King of the arcade

Program: The King
Supplier: Microdeal

ANY SERIES of reviews of classic Dragon arcade games has to start with this, possibly the best Dragon game in the world.

The King, released long ago in the mists of time has still never been graphically surpassed, and is quite simply the best version of Donkey Kong available for ANY micro-computer.

The game looks great, and handles better than any other on the market. But then, I feel that I'm preaching to the converted as, judging by the number of months the game held the top of the software charts, every Dragon owner in Britain probably owns a copy!

Tea Time

After a few hours of playing this little gem, I decided upon the phrase, "excellent game, naff title" as a summary.

The game is really three separate games, but very well linked together. You control a teapot and in the first game must collect drops of tea as they fall from the sky. The sponge that moves across the screen mops up as many drops as it can and will also empty your pot if you get close enough to it. You complete the game when you have collected 30 drops.

The second game has you dodging the sugar cubes (!) as they race down the screen à la "meteoroid dodge" and a whole generation of similar games. Playing this for a set time successfully, takes you onto the final stage, the larder, where using lifts and platforms you must collect all the tea that is on the larder shelves and finally reach your goal, the tea cosy.

The program is a collection of tried and tested games but its addictiveness comes from the excellent design. Once you have finished these three screens, you go back to the first one but have the additional hazard of a hammer marching across the screen (someone saw Pink Floyd's The Wall) which will smash your pot if it connects.

Apart from the game's progressive difficulty, the other strong point that sticks out in my mind is the graphics. They may not be Ultimate standard, but they are good by Dragon standards and the degree of surrealism which first found computerised expression in Manic Miner and its clones is wonderful. Add to this bonus scores, an excellent title page and a high score and well — why are you still reading — go out and buy it. C.G.

When the boss is out are you playing the game?

Now you can play six new games on your IBMPC (and most compatibles), from MICRODEAL.

CHESS. For zero, one or two players. You can save and restore games on disk, set up problems and games, print score on printer. Access instant replay and instant move, retrieve, select your own colour scheme. Ask for move suggestions and the whole programme includes many historic games

GOLF. Play 18 holes with three different skill levels avoiding sand traps and duck ponds. You can even select your own woods and irons.

BACKGAMMON. For zero, one or two players. Nine different skill levels. Manual input of dice and gambling dice if required.

EMPIRE. A game of worldwide strategy, the aim of which is to drive the evil Empire from the face of the earth. Eight levels of difficulty.

CALIXTO ISLAND. Can you recover valuable museum treasure which has been stolen? All the fun and challenge of the best text adventures plus spectacular graphics.

SEA SEARCH. Pirates, mermaids and sharks. The underwater scenes are unforgettable so get your shark repellent and scuba tanks ready.

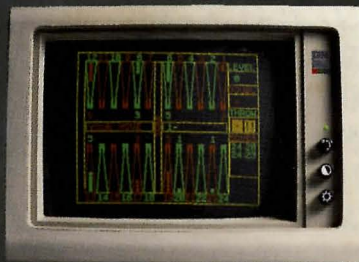

You can play the game within 24 hours by ordering through Micropost. Alternatively all the games are available from most computer stores. So buy now and have fun and games with your IBMPC.
