

"Just One Of Those Days"

"Returning, slightly knackered, from his encounter with the 'Dog-Warriors' of Zumbria, Bart hitched his ring (Nuclear-powered, Bubble-firing, for the use of ..) up to its charger and stepped into the soothing rays of the Mk 13 'Vac-O-Rec'. Then selecting his favourite blue sleep-suit, he slid into the 'Snooze-Module' and closed the lid. Soon he would be fully refreshed and ready to face his next assignment .... or so he thought! However life is never THAT simple and when he awoke to find a small but very informative note pinned to his pillow, he knew that it was going to be .....

Zenobi Software

Guide Bart through the vast Azurian complex, his every step monitored by advanced surveillance cameras. Avoid, where-ever possible, the various security droids that stalk the corridors in ever-increasing quantities. Armed with only his 'Bubble-firing ring', Bart must locate the 'Mega-Brain' that controls the complex and then using his skills to the full, blast the brain into oblivion!

To a mercenary of Bart's abilities this is a simple enough task but can YOU handle it? Will you be able to solve the puzzles and find your way around the myriad of corridors or will you die in the attempt? Remember the famous words of Quillam T. Sandros .... "You only have one life, so use it well ..."
