Enter the 29th Century - and enter a dying world, commercially exploited by huge corrupt state corporations and ravaged by the ever changing climate. When Bio-corp's latest law enforcement droids malfunction and begin murdering people, a massive cover-up operation is initiated to suppress the truth. Innocent people are framed for the murders and held captive against their will, without trial or any chance of escape.

YOU must take control of your four 'droids and explore the city zones in an attempt to free the captives. Search for clues, gather evidence, live above or below the corrupt 'law'; the choice is yours. Justice must prevail!

Liberation continues the saga that began in the award winning Captive.

- Hours of digitised speech and CD quality music.
- A cast of thousands to fight, talk or trade with.
- Explore the cities using the innovative Vectomap[®] 3D role playing system.
- Real time 3D combat puts you right in the thick of the action.
- Use your brain as well as your brawn to locate and free the captives.

"Thank God - a game that finally does the CD32 justice... Liberation is quite possibly the best game I've ever played... you'll be completely hooked"
