

UFO KIDNAPS WOMAN Performs Liposuction

“It Raised My Consciousness
...and No More Cellulite!”

NATIONAL INQUIRER
LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER AT ACCOLADE

BEFORE

AFTER

THE KING: IS HE ALIVE?

TO THE ALLEY

TV Station Offers $1 M To Find Him

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW
Lyla Libido: "I Was The King's Love Slave."

TV Technoid Claims:
"I'm Hot on His Trail"

FIND THE KING... GET A CHECK!

Definitive Proof Worth A Cool Million $$$

A struggling New York City TV station says it is willing to give one million dollars to whoever can locate The King.

The station, WILL-TV (motto: "If the Biggies won't show it, we WILL!"), unveiled its bizarre "Search for The King" contest during recent prime-time programming.

spokesman. "What better way than to send a few thousand yahoos out looking for the greatest entertainer of all time?"

But the question remains: Where is him. How does he get around? What's his agenda? Experts say the evidence all points to one chilling conclusion.

"His relationship with alien space creatures is well

Psychic Madame Z: According to my sources, The King is near.

Atlanta. "The data reveals a remarkable geographical correlation between UFO encounters and King sightings."

But that's not all! "The patterns also suggest a very sophisticated marketing revenue sometime this fall," admitted one Kingdom insider. "We're adding a new multi-theater cineplex and a law school."

In light of all this, WILL's "Search for The King" contest seems to make good

---

"The data reveals a remark- programming.

“We’re just trying to encourage good investigative journalism,” said one WILL remains: Where is The King? Since his disappearance there have been more than 60,000 sightings of creatures is well documented,” said Dr. Arlo Spew, a noted researcher at Emory University in ## able geographical correlation between UFO encounters and King sightings.”

The Kingdom: More popular than Dollywood?

strategy,” added Spew. “Alien media experts are clearly manipulating his itinerary.”

Whatever the case, “The King” still generates a lot of excitement! In fact, his former Southern home — the Kingdom — has become the second most lucrative tourist attraction in the world. And industry experts predict a number one ranking soon!

“We should pass Dollywood in annual business sense. But station owner J.B. Swiller claims the promotion has nothing to do with recent disastrous performances in the Nielson ratings. “This is no crass publicity stunt,” he said. “We really believe The King is out there, somewhere.”

When asked to reconcile the million dollar prize with the station’s negative balance sheet, Swiller replied, “Do I look like an accountant?”

INQUIRER PROFILE:

Les Manley

His Bizarre Quest Reveals Shocking Underside Of Wealth, Power, Fame

He finds his clothes at K-Mart; his dates at Radio Shack. Now he's trying to find the greatest entertainer of all time!

So who is he?
His name is Lester P. (Les)
Manley. A native
New Yorker, he lists his occupation as “video technical support engineer.”
And before WILL-TV’s “Search for The King” contest, his life

After graduating from Brooklyn High School in 1982
(where he was voted Best Guy to Have Around When the Projector Goes on the Fritz), Les took a decisive step toward his goal of becoming a dominant force in year, he was back to square one.

“I didn’t realize you could re-subscribe,” recalls Les.

Despondent, he began to take classes at a local technical school. Before long he found himself in video. Two years

windowless office at WILL-TV

where Les rewinds video tapes all day.

“It’s a good job,”
he shrugs.

Right, Les! If you happen to be a bacterium!

Les admits today

would find himself:

- Demanding information from gorgeous women
- Wandering around
- Not calling his mother was tedious and common at best.

Today, Les is hot on the trail of The King!

the entertainment industry. But when the subscription to Film Quarterly ran out the following ago, he accepted a job. Indeed, his own personal "Search for The King" began recently in the tiny, that he thought his search would be a lunch-hour pursuit. Little did he know that before long, he

How close has Les gotten to The King? "Very close," he confided.

LYLA LIBIDO:

The King's Former 15-Year-Old Bride Bares The Truth!

"The King could be the sweetest man alive," declared a nostalgic Lyla Libido,

"but after dinner — he called it 'feeding' — he'd collapse into a state of clinical brain death till morning!"

In a blockbuster exclusive INQUIRER interview, former child bride Lyla took off the gloves to blast published reports that The King had been a womanizer of epic proportions — even after marrying her!

"Womanizer?" laughed Lyla. "The man could barely speak! In Vegas he just sat around in that hot tub in our suite, practicing his forehead. I had to beat the hell out of him just to get an occasional monosyllable."

"Yeah, I was crazy about him," she admitted. "But what did I know? I was a kid."

Lyla is the current consort of Vegas headliner Johnny Fontana — AKA "Mr. Fabulous" — and the rumors have long been thick about their relationship. During the single

Continued on pg. 4

Extraterrestrials Suck Lard From 300-Pound Woman, Transmit Secrets of Ancient Civilization

When 317-pound Heather Slathering saw bright lights above her bed last August, she thought she was dead.

Little did she realize she was about to embark on a voyage to another galaxy — with a medical crew of small, squid-like extraterrestrials!

And even more amazing — she would return in a month with heightened perceptions and a perfect body!

Heather disappeared that hot

August night from her home town of Noids Point, Pennsylvania. Most of her friends and family gave her up for dead. “I figured she just fell through a floor somewhere,” said her brother Mookie.

But no! Heather had actually embarked on a journey far into the depths of outer space!

“I was the only human they abducted,” said Heather. “All they took was just me, a few cattle, and some hotel towels and

Lift-off, she recalls, was exhilarating. But this would be no joyride. “They looked like these little squids,” said Heather. “They kept nudging each other, and winking. Next thing I knew, I was strapped to a table.”

Alien surgeons then proceeded to suction out 200 pounds of Heather’s fat. They toned the patient’s musculature using a space age neuro-stimulator. The result: In less than 5 minutes, Heather Slathering was transformed from a hoggish, lumbering NFL noseguard prospect to lean, aerobics instructor!

“It was painless,” she said. “It could have been pleasant, in fact, if their language didn’t sound like a bunch of birds vomiting.”

The surgeons also implanted a dendritical memory cluster in her frontal lobe. Said Heather: “Now I remember things I never knew before!” She revealed that these newly implanted “memories” consist primarily of make-up and dieting tips.

But she brightly added: “I remembered the cure for cancer for a while after I got back to Noids Point. But then year of Lyla’s “royal marriage,” Fontana was The King’s opening act in the Casino Hotel show-room.

LYLA: LOVE SLAVE?

Some say Mr. Fabulous opened the show in The King’s penthouse bedchamber as well!

“Johnny’s always been like a father to me, or maybe an uncle, or an older second cousin or something,” replied Lyla. “He’s a neat guy, and his bodyguards are like a second family to me too.”

Responding to rumors that The King locked her away against her will — making her, in effect, a “love slave” — the 29-year-old model/actress said:

“No way! The only thing he lusted after was Frusen Gladje.”

She fingered her sunglasses and added cryptically: “Very little of the man I knew remains in my possession.”

MAN SUCKED THROUGH TV! EXPERIENCES PARALLEL UNIVERSE

COMING IN SEPTEMBER