

DRAGONSTRIKE

BLACK DRAGON

Black dragons are extremely independent and will generally only obey a command if it suits their purpose. While some have been seen in combat, these dragons are highly valued by the Highlords for guarding treasures and spying. The Black dragon, Onyx, guarded the great Disks of Mishakal when they were found by the good adventurers. Blacks are very seldom involved in direct combat.

When left to their own devices, black dragons prefer to live in swamps or marshes. Some, however, have been found in subterranean lairs.
